DUAL HONORS FOR J. R. KEENE

DELHI VICTORIOUS IN $50,000 GREAT REPUBLIC.

Sysonby's Easy Win in the Special Adds $11,500 to the Stable's Earnings -Keene Three-Year-Old Impressively Defeats Fine Field-Brilliant Racing.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 6 .- To-day's racing here will fill a bright page in turf history. It was the sport at its best and under auspices that will give it the stamp of approval in every quarter. Two years ago when the late William C. Whitney announced a series of Two years ago when the late rich stakes, he suggested the Great Republic with a value that would make it one of the richest turf events in the world. To-day it was run and it carried all the glamour that its promoter had hoped for. Its one marring feature was that Mr. Whitney did not live to see his race decided. The winner was James . Keene's Delhi and behind him came the mick of the all-aged division. Some of the absentees must be rated as stars, but their absence was due to one of two reasons—they were not eligible or not in condition to run that could be asked for and the race, as a contest, everything expected.

The total value of the Great Republic stake was $50,000. Of this the first money was $40,000, and with it went $2,000 additional, as the conditions called for that amount as the reward for the nominator of the winner. This, with the $11,500 and the $2,500 in gold plate which Sysonby's victory in the Special had brought a little earlier in the afternoon, made the total winnings of the two horses a fortune even to a man of Mr. Keene's wealth. He was, of course, delighted with the results financially, but it was the performance of the two colts that pleased him most.

Before each race he visited the paddock and revelled in the levee tendered to both colts. Sysonby before his race was scanned by fully a thousand men and women anxious for a glimpse of a colt believed to be the horse of all time. The novices looked at him in silent admiration. The experts searched for a flaw and failed to find one.

As for the afternoon's attendance, it far exceeded anything in the history of racing here. The gate receipts in the grand stand inclosure alone were $5,000 more than at any time in the records of the track, and thousands found accommodations in the these that are seen at Sheepshead Bay and at Morris Park; but thousands came in from neighboring cities, the railroads running excursions from Albany, Troy and other

In the clubhouse and in the boxes the showing was especially flattering. The powers of he turf were better represented than ever before. It really looked as if they had agreed among themselves to make the day one that will live long in the annals of racing. This it certainly will, for the afternoon passed without a flaw. It was feared that the several events would be run on a heavy track, as it rained the best part of last night, and rained hard, but the track was dry long before the first race was called, and by the time the big events were scheduled it was actually fast.
As for Delhi's victory, it can simply be said that the best horse won. He was conceding weight to all his competitors, with the exception of Waterboy, and led from end to end and had a comfortable margin as he passed the finish line. Some will tell that he was straight at the end. This he certainly was; but what horse could run the mile and a contract he did under like conditions and quarter he did under like conditions and not be doing his best? It was a great show-awarded all the glory that goes with a race of this sort. The programme called for seven starters, and they all ran. With them St. Valentine was added at the eleventh hour by E. R. Thomas. Opinions were well divided as to the merits of the field, and the result was a liberal range of prices, with the Duryea pair Aceful and Mercury, always the favorites The opening odds were 11 to 5, and at post time 2 to 1 was the best obtainable. Water boy's admirers kept his price at 3½ to 1. The Picket was played down from 5 to 1 to 18 to 5 Delhi was at 8 to 1 after some 10 to 1 had been 15 was offered and St. Valentine, who was unquestionably outclassed, was next

ing from a good horse, and to him must be friendless at 40 to 1. There was some delay at the start, for which The Picket was chiefly at fault. He wheeled repeatedly, and refused to move up with the others. Finally came a chance with him straight, and the word was given. He Mercury had a slight advantage for the first half dozen strides, but Odom had orders to take Delhi to the front, and before the first sixteenth had been covered he was three lengths clear. This meant a hurrying of the others, but, strive as they might, the gap did not grow less.

Down the backstretch the Duryea pair were next behind him, and rounding the far turn both were put to their utmost to reduce the gap. This effort failed as had the other. Odom was watching them closely, and for each call that they made he, too, asked something of the son of Ben Brush. As they o the lower end of the stand Delhi began to tire, and for a stride or two it looked f he would be caught, but he stuck to his task with a gameness that was a delight to his backers, and won by a length. Mercury The time by furlongs was 0:12 3-5: 0:24 2-5

1:52 4-5: 2:05 4-5. If there is a chance for a "what might have been" in connection with the race it must be put to the credit of The Picket. He was Here he moved up with a rush the contending division, but before he had really got down to his best efforts St. Valentine pulled over in front of him and Burns was forced to ease him up.

When clear he moved up again, but this time it was on the outside, which meant that he was compelled to go wide on the turn. When straightened out in the stretch he closed a lot of ground; still, the more one re-views the pace the more pronounced becomes the opinion that he ran his race, 2:05 4-5 being something a little too speedy for him, no matter how lucky he may be.

Many believed that Acefull should have been sent out to force Delhi along and then let Mercury come on when the leaders tired.
A plan of this sort looks all right, but this afternoon it is far from certain that Acefull could have got to the Keene colt had he been ridden with whip and spur from the very

Waterboy's chances ended with the run-

Waterboy's chances ended with the running of the first quarter. He seemed to go this far in his old style, then began to lose ground, and at the finish was last of the field, close to a sixteenth of a mile behind the winner. He seemed to pull up sound, but it is safe to say that his racing days are over. It would be a pity to see a horse that has been the good winner that he has been sent after overnight purses. He has earned retirement, and Mr. Haggin can well afford to take him to the farm.

The $22,000 Saratoga Special, for two-year-olds, five and a half furlongs, was nothing but a romp for Mr. Keene's Sysonby, the Melton-Optime colt who has swept all before him since his first start during the Brighton meeting. He went off in front at the start and increased his advantage at will. In the stretch Odorn eased him some, but he came home in a canter with six lengths to spare. He ran the distance in 1.07, which is a new record for the race, the old figures being 1.08 1-5, held foility by Irish Lad and Goldsmith.

Sysonby had such a mortgage on the Special toat the layers put up 1 to 20, which frightened off all but the big, sure thing plungers.

The public betting, therefore, was confined.

When they got to the obstacle all three suddenly refused, whereupon Amur, who was following and was completely fagged out, managed to crawl over the jump and won by 100 lengths. Timothy D. Sullivan and his adherents were jubilant when Old England, well played at 4 to 1, carried the Congressman's colors to victory in the first race, at seven furlongs. The Goldfinch gelding was always the pacemaker and won easily by two lengths. Monte Carlo, reduced to sixes, looked dangerous at the head of the stretch, but could not get up, finishing second, a length in front of Dick Bernard, 4 to 1. CHICAGO, Aug. 6 .- Mabel Richardson, an addi-CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Mabel Richardson, an additional starter, at as good as 40 to 1 in the betting, almost threw the crowd at Harlem to-day into spasms by winning the Maywood Handicap by a head from Gregor K., with Miss Crawford third, and the great filly Tokalon a badly beaten fifth. There was considerable goasip after the race relative to Mabel Richardson's startling improvement. Just twenty-four hours before, when at 1 to 2 in the betting, she was badly beaten by a field of inferior horses.

PITTSBURG PHIL" REINSTATED BY THE JOCKEY CLUB. Noted Plunger Pleased, but Not Likely to Race Horses—James R. Keene Says He Has a Colt in His Stable to Beat Sysonby-Farcical Steeplechase. SARATOGA, Aug. 6 .- The stewards of the Jockey club met to-day and among other matters considered was the lifting of the ban on George E. Smith (Pittsburg Phil). The decision was in favor of the well known plunger and in future he is entitled to all the privileges of the turf. The ban against him was issued a year ago this spring, just after the meeting at Morris Park. It did not banish him from the tracks, but simply ordered that his entries be refused. The reasons for was generally supposed it was for connection with some plunges on horses that had shown inconsistent form. Phil was very naturally pleased when he heard that the edict had gone forth putting him in good standing again, but he said that he did not intend to take advantage of it so far as running horses again, as he did not believe that he would ever again own a stable. He said the most pleasing feature of it was that it lifted a stain from his turf career that he believed was imposed under some mis-understanding. Phil's health has been poor for the last three or four months and while he will probably remain for the rest of the meeting here he will take a vacation during some of the fall meetings in the vicinity of

To-day's victory in the Great Republic was not the first $50,000 stake that has come to the Keene stable. Two years ago Mr. Keene won the Jockey Club Stakes in England with Disguise II, a son of Domino that was in the English division of his stable. It looks as if the jumping races here are all to result in the next thing to a farce. To-day, of the big field, just one, Alum Water, generally-rated the poorest jumper of the lot, went through the course without a blunder. The winner, Amur, did not fall, but he did the next thing to it, all but unseating his rider the first time around at one of the jumps backstretch. Coming to the last obstacle, which is a hurdle on the turf track Ten Candles and Adjidaumo were off alone by themselves and there was promise of a hot fight between them, but all three refused and before their riders realized what had happened, Amur had come along and passed them so far that he won by a comfortable

Among those that came to grief were some of the best of our timbertoppers, and if they cannot get over the course what use will it be to provide races for them? Neither the bettors nor the general public want to see a chapter of accidents every time there is a contest through the field. It is dangerous to the riders and to the horses, too. In fact, it will be hard to get owners to bring their chasers here if they are to take these

In the midst of the congratulation that was tendered to Mr. Keene after Sysonby had won the Special he stated that his stable sheltered a colt that could beat this son of Melton. He certainly is in a position to know; still this assertion looks unreasonable, as this one is beyond all question a marvel. Mr. Keene did not mention the name of the new one that will be introduced, but it is believed that the one referred to is Blucher, who will be a bidder for the Futurity with yesterday's winner.
Delhi's victory was a little surprising to

Jimmy Rowe, his trainer. He said to Mr. Keene before the race that the colt was not within ten pounds of his best form. He did not explain this, but he probably meant that the sickness that the colt suffered from after the Morris Park meeting less him in a condition that called for a lot of care and time e is still short of what he can show it is going to be very hard to beat him in the other stakes that he will bid for this fall. Rowe deserves reat credit for the way he trains these horses. He is content to wait when others are imatient. This has been his method for years, even before he trained for Mr. Keene. He is one of the few of his calling that gets results

Craig Wadsworth, who arrived home from England the other day, came up to see the two stakes run. He said that it was really under our methods. He said that he saw first race and sent in a commission well up in the thousands. Their judgment was all right so far as the colt's speed goes, for he in which he was the sufferer, caused him to could do was third. With anything like an even break he would have won.

Workman, a two-year-old in the stable of William Dubois who races under the name of the Patchogue Stable, ran away while being led to his quarters at Horse Haven this morning and started for the village. He came down Union avenue at a rate that was a wild stampede to get out of his way. Happily he missed a mix-up and when caught showed no ill effects from the wild run. J. W. Colt, the owner of Amur, who won the Beverwyck Steeplechase, did not bet a dollar on the horse. In fact, after the finish, when asked what the price against the horse was, he said that he did not know. He ex-plained that he did not dare think he could win after the fall the other day and that he was perfectly content to win the stake, which was a rich one. Homan, who rode Amur, is a newcomer in this line practically, and he will do most of the work for Mr. Colt in the future, as Mara, the stable's regular jockey, is to have a long rest.

The trainer of The Picket is credited to-night with having complained that in all the races of his horse he is put on the outside of the track, irrespective of the position that he draws. This, he asserts, is done purposely, and with the idea of injuring the chances of the Western horse. If he did make this statement, he probably will be called on to explain it. To-day the horse was the next thing to crazy, and he was really lucky to get the break that he did.

John W. Gates was one of the few that backed Delhi. His commission was $5,000, and it was placed at an average price of 8 to 1. Billy Cowan was one of the several that accepted his play. He laid $18,000 against

At the meeting of the stewards to-day, besides the reinstatement of Pittsburg Phil. some business of interest was transacted. The assistant secretary was instructed to write all associations racing under the jurisdiction of the Jockey Club, suggesting that they purchase a horse ambulance to be used on all tracks. The temporary trainer's heense granted to John Dwyer, Jr., was withdrawn. A trainer's license was granted o John Rogers, and Louis Smith's application for a jockey's license was denied. H. K. Knapp was appointed steward to represent the Jockey Club at the Sheepshead Bay meeting, and C. J. Fitzgerald was recommended as starter.

Fort Hunter's victory in the closing event was of a most decisive order, and from now on he will be worth attention, no matter what sort of company he may meet. This colt was sold by John Sanford last fall for a small sum, and the purchaser, William Hurst, won two races with him at Bennings. This brought an offer of $3,500, and it was accepted, the colt passing into the hands of N. Dyment, his present owner. He was next to invincible on the northern circuit, and it looks now as if he will more than pay his way here. He is certainly worth many times the sum paid for him a year ago.

E. E. Smathers and his friends were very confident that Dick Bernard would win the first race and sent in a commission well up in the thousands. Their independent of the collection of the properties of t

There are to be three races to decide the winners, each yacht being credited with points according to the place in which it finishes in each race. The races yesterday were sailed from of the clubhouse on Gravesend Bay. The wind was light from the west and the boats had two reaches and one run on each round of the triangle. The Ogeemah finished first, but she had to allow time to all the other sloops, and the Dorothy, which received a handicap of 10 minutes, won the race. The Indian, with a handicap of 10 minutes, was second. In the catboat class the scratch boat, the Colleen, won, and the Martha M. was second.

HEMPSTEAD HARBOR REGATTA. Thirty-eight Yachts Sall Over Courses on the Sound in Light Winds.

The annual regatta of the Hempstead Harbor Yacht Club, sailed yesterday on the Harbor Yacht Club, sailed yesterday on the Sound, was a very successful one. Thirty-eight yachts started, and with a light south-westerly wind, they made lairly good time over the course. They were started in Hempstead harbor and the 36 and 30-tooters went to Prospect Point, then to Stotch (ags., then to Matinicock Point and then home, 14 miles in all. The next division sailed 11½ miles and the small boats 6½ miles.

The closest race of the day was furnished by the raceabouts. Seven started, and the race was won by S. C. Hopkins's Kascal 11. The Kid, owned by Oliver Harriman, Jr., was only 18 seconds behind the Kascal, and the Howdy, owned by S. Wainwright, was 8 seconds behind the Kid. The Tartan, Hobo, Busy Bee and Cricket were beaten some minutes. some minutes.

Findlay Douglas won the gross score prize In the thirty-six hole handicap yesterday at the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club, which is annually the closing competition in the three day tournament. The former amateur champion secured also the gold medal for the best round of the tournament on the 74 he made in the qualifying round.

C. Tiffany Richardson, who learned his game as a boy on the Shinnecock Hills links, out is now playing from the Country Club of Lakewood, had the same gross score, 76 So-156, as Malcolm McBurney, winner of the president's cum. On his rating of 14, Richardson was the winner of the handicap cup, leading the field by nine strokes. Nearest to him were E. S. Knapp and Garry B. Adams Richardson's card was:

F. Oden Horstman and Eben M. Byers were still golfing at St. Andrews a week ago. The former, in a round with H. S. C. Everard, had then come into prominence with a 74 over the old course, and Byers, with A. H. Scott of Elie, had a foursome against Norman Hunter and Andrew Kirkaldy. It was a seventy-two hole match over Elie and St. Andrews, and Byers and his partner were beaten 5 up. Jack White, the open champion, is at the home of his parents at North Berwick, suffering from muscular strain over the heart and is under medical treatment. He has cancelled all engagements to play matches

Championship. ST. CATHARINE'S, Ont., Aug. 6 .- The prinipal Interest in the Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen's regatta here to-day centred in the senior single sculls final, in which Constance S. Titus of the Atalanta Boat Club, New York, and Frank B. Greer of Boston, the national champion, were competitors. Greer took the lead in easy fashion and showed by far the better form. He kept increasing his lead all the way, and at three-quarters of the course was three lengths ahead of the New Yorker. Near the finish Titus, however, put on a sprint and ran Greer so hard that the champion only beat him by about half a length.

The two men shook hands in front of the grand stand. Greer probably did not work as hard as he might have. The champion's work was much admired and the opinion was freely expressed that if he could not beat Lou Scholes he would give him a mighty hard race.

George H. Lloyd of Arlington, Mass., won the intermediate singles. In the junior four oars the Winnipegs, Ottawas, Argonauts of Toronto and Mutuals of Buffalo raced. The Argonauts came in first with the Ottawas second, Winnipeg third and Mutuals last. The Toronto Rowing Club won the intermediate double sculls, Winnipeg was second and Brockville third. There were about 12,000 persons present.

Myopia Wins Narragansett Polo.

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., Aug. 6 .- On the grounds of Wildfield Farm to-day Myopia first met Bryn Mawr in the final polo match of the championship series at Narragansett. The trophy was the silver cup presented by William Waldorf Astor through the Tuxeio Club. Myopia won the cup and championship honors by a score of 14 to 14. The Bryn Mawr four showed lack of team work, though good individual drives across the field were made by Kennedy and Snowden of the Pennsylvania four. Features of the game were the dash and daring riding of Bobby Shaw and the aggressive riding off of Agassiz. In the second period a dense fog almost obliterated the players from view. The line-up follows:

Bryn Mawr-1, C. R. Snowden; 2, M. G. Bosengarien, Jr.; 3, A. E. Kennedy; 4, C. Wheeler.

Myopia-1, M. Norman; 2, R. G. Shaw, 24, 3, R. L. Agassiz; 4, D. Milburn. the Tuxelo Club. Myopia won the cup and

WOMEN IN YACHT RACES. Souvernirs for Those on Board Winning

Two yawls and three catboats sailed in the New Rochelle Yacht Club's race for women yesterday. Each yacht had from one to yesterday. Each yacht had from one to three fair sailors on board, and they took a keen interest in the contest from start to finish, for those on the winning yachts were to receive souvenir club pins as prizes.

Commodore Donovan's guests were the winners, for his yawl Sayonara crossed the minish line first H. T. Noyes's Ola being second. In the cat class, J. B. Ricketts's Katherine won, with John Lambden's Grace, second, and J. Wing's Idler, third.

A very close start was made at 3 o'clock, all the yachts crossing the line off Echo Island in fifteen seconds. The wind was light from the southwest, and the course a six mile triangle, the first leg of which was a run, with booms to port, to the Hen and Chickens south buoy. The second leg was a reach on the starboard tack to the Execution buoy, and the final leg, a close reach on the port tack. The yachts, and the clubhouse grounds on Harrison's Island were illuminated last night.

NOTES OF THE TRADE.

What's Going On in Automobile Circles -Horse and Carriage Dealers Busy. The new home and garage of the Worthington Automobile Company, which is being erected, will surpass anything in this line heretofore constructed. It is located between Broadway and Sixth avenue and runs through from Forty-ninth street to Fifand runs through from Forty-ninta street to Fif-tieth street. It is to be a seven story structure and is being built by the architects Eidlitz & McKen-zie. The first six stories are to be used for the storing of machines, the seventh being reserved as a repair shop. All cars are to be stored in separate partitioned spaces, and each space is to have its own private door under lock, making it impossible for neighbors to borrow tools. Private lookers, baths, showers, &c., in fact everything that will add to the comfort of patrons, will be installed in this new home for the automobile.

In the St. Louis automobile tour, the Oldsmobile light tonneau car driven by D. B. Huas of Detroit is making an enviable showing. The eighty miles from New York to Poughkeepsie were negotiated in six hours. The run of seventy-six miles to Albany was made in four hours, and in spite of the rough roads between Albany and Utica, the hun-dred miles were negotiated in seven hours without a necessary stop. The effort of Messrs. Eilis and Schmidt with a 45 horse-power Apperson car to establish a new record between Chicago and New York city, was record between Chicago and New York city, was the fifth unsuccessful attempt to break the record of seventy-six hours elapsed time, made last fall by Bert Holcomb and Lawrence Duffle with a 24 horse-power Columbia. The Apperson drivers made excellent time as far as Buffalo, when they ran into a series of thunder storms which set them back beyond the possibility of record time for the entire trip. Mr. Holeomb thinks that his record is likely to hold through this season anyway. As he modestly puts it, none of the hundred and one things liable to put a car out of fecord business happened in his case. From start to finish he had good weather and good roads, which was remarkable, considering the wide extent of territory covered. He was also favored by a complete absence of tire troubles and other small annoyances. All these favorable conditions, he thinks, would have enabled him to put the record where it would have stood for years, had he not dropped several hours by getting lost between Kingston and New York. As it is, he believes the chances good for his figures standing for some time yet.

Horse and Carriage Dealers Rusy. A very extensive business has been done this past season by the Mark Cross Company in fitting up the interior of fine stables with Musgrave's patent stable fittings, for which they are the sole agents.

All of 10,000 square feet of floor space is now being devoted to the harness business alone in R. H. Macy & Co's big store. This in itself is evidence of the success they have made in this particular line of trade. Everything for the horse or stable can now be purchased here at from 25 per cent. to 33 1-3 per cent, lower than at any other house selling riding and driving requisites of similar quality

In looking over the line of summer horse clothing at the Peters Harness and Saddlery Company, & West Broadway, one is struck with the heautiful assortment of colors in their coolers of this year's patterns; they are of all shades, artistically blended and pleasing to the eye.

Now is the time for thrifty buyers to secure a bargain if in need of anything in the harness like. William R. Bishop, 36 Warren street, one of the busiest downtown dealers, has cut the price of everything in his warerooms. Bargains abound in station wagons, which, by the way. Bishop has made a special study of; these are features, but everything on wheels can be had here, and all at astonishing prices.

FOR 30 YEARS

For 30 years 1 have been treating and curing the Diseases and Weaknesses of Men. I have done and do nothing else. I understand these cases as a child knows its alphabet. If you had been making shoes or sawing wood or doing any one thing for the same length of time you would know your business or trade as I know mine. Experience is the best of teachers. There is no guess work, experimenting or failure. I know just what I can do, do it and do it well.

I Cure Where Others Fail.

Obstinate and so-called "Hopeless and Incurable" cases are my specialty, and I am proud of my success. I have a record of over ten thousand cases of Lost Power, Varicocele, Stricture, Hydrocele, Drains and Weaknesses in which ordinary physicians have failed.

I Will Not Dose or Drug Your Stomach.
